How's this for Hogs?—Mr Robert Cherry, of Washington, Iowa, reports to us under date of Feb'y 16th, that at that time last year he had ten breeding sowa. From them he raised and sold off $1,579 worth, killed eight for his own use and has thirteen sows and ten shoats left. This extraordinary yield resulted inside of ten months. The pigs, littered in April, were sold in February following.

To Cook BEEF STEAK.—First have a hot fire; then, after the coffee is made and the water drained off the potatoes, place the steak. Which has been previously salted and well pounded, in a spider, which should be hot enough to smoke. After a quarter of a minter of a minute, turn it again, and so continue to do until sufficiently cooked. The hot fire and frequent turnings serve to cook the meat and keep the juice in, which is the desideratum in a steak.

The closest observation I was able to make discovered no bad restricted.

WHEAT BRAN, A REGULATOR.—
Good sweet, wheaten bran is, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, better than physic, if it is given in time. Let any animal eating stinking, moldy corn stalks, or brittle hay, making it look bad, have some bran to help its poor stomach, and it soon appears in better plight. MANURE FOR POTATOES.—An exchange says the following recipe for raising potatoes is worth the price of any paper for one year to any farmer that is short of manure. It is as good as the best superphosphate of lime, and it will not cost half as much. It has been tried two years, and is good on dry land: Take one cask of lime and slack it with water, and then stir in one bushel of fine salt, and then mix in loam enough, so that it will not become mortar. It will make about five barrels. Put meal, one handful of salt, a half pound of copperas. Let it stand a short time so that the coal may become thoroughly saturated with the liquid, then feed to the hogs in the usual manner. This has never failed as a preventative, and in every instance wherein from neglect the disease made its appearance, succeeded in curing it in a few days.—Exchange.

Another man and his sons fed and sold 702 hoga averaging 305 lbs., upon which they made an outlay of about $9,000, for the round sum of $24, 000.

Gardening for Ladles.

Please ladies do a little gardening. You do not how what roses it will bring to your cheeks, and what healthy appetites, what vigor and elasticity you will gain thereby. Begin with a strawberry bed, two dwarf pear trees, and a grape vine. Let them be your own sepecial care. Do not let indoor work prevent, and let some part of the morning be taken prior to its out door exercise, and you will not be half so likely to get the backnohe at the usual domestic tasks. We much not be siaves to custom, to so clety. Surely health and vigor a delicacy! THOUGH & STATE WHEN

A correspondent of the Count

Sentleman says: "Place your in a heap on the middle of the threshing floor, on the end that the wind blows to: Get you a wilking stool and small scoop— your wife's flour scoop will do— and throw the oats with a light turn of the wrist, to the other end If you call to see a peer family, do not give them a prayer half an hour long, but send them a barrel of flour. It will go further and do at the same distance. Sweep off now and then, if you have much the utmost circle for seed, the light oats for feed, and the weed seed to burn. You will now have seed to built. To will how have seed oats worthy to sow without buying at five dollars per bushel. I have seen oats grow in Sweden until I was forty years old; but I never saw a heavy crop where the seed was not selected as above."
